How can I have my say?

You can provide feedback on the project at any stage. There are several ways to ask questions, raise concerns or share your views.

BONDO WIND FARM

Before the development application is submitted

(EXPECTED IN MARCH 2027)

You can:

- Visit our Tumut office and speak with our Community Liaison Officer or Project Managers. The office is open on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, with appointments available at other times. You're welcome to drop in, ask questions or provide feedback.
- Write to us by sending a letter to our Tumut office - 45 Fitzroy Street, Tumut, NSW 2720.
- Call or email us via 1800 966 106 or contact@bondowindfarm.com.au.
- Contact the NSW Department of Planning, Housing and Infrastructure (DPHI). DPHI is the government agency responsible for assessing the project. You can contact the project's Case Officer, Erin Matarazzo, on 02 9995 5067 before or after the development application is lodged.

After the development application is submitted

(EXPECTED FROM APRIL 2027 UNTIL A DECISION IS MADE, LIKELY END OF 2028)

You can continue to contact us using any of the methods above. There will also be a formal public exhibition as part of the planning process.

Here's what happens:

- We'll let the community know before the application is lodged. This includes notices in local newspapers, emails and our community newsletter.
- The development application is lodged with DPHI. Once DPHI confirms the application is complete, the Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) will be placed on public exhibition.
- You can make a formal submission. During the exhibition period (usually at least 28 days), anyone can make a submission in support of the project, raise concerns or object. The EIS will be available:
  - on the NSW Major Projects website
  - at our Tumut office
  - At other local locations where printed copies can be viewed.
- We'll respond to community feedback. Neoen must prepare a Response to Submissions report that addresses the issues raised by the community and government agencies.
- The project may be considered by the Independent Planning Commission (IPC). If this occurs, the IPC will undertake its own assessment. The community will have another opportunity to make submissions and can also register to speak at the IPC public meeting before a decision is made.

After a decision is made

Whether the project is approved or refused, you can continue to contact us with questions or feedback.
